My warmest regards to all the participants. This is India's time! As we develop into a developed & prosperous nation; as 140 crore Indians work with the spirit and energy of a new India; an India powered by its women and its youth – full of hope and aspiration for the future; as we adopt future technologies so seamlessly – in governance, in manufacturing, in our day-to-day lives – this is the sunrise sector. All of you will be the participants of this bright & prosperous future..
